AGED MAN WITHOUT CLOTHES, IN STREETS

Minneapolis Man Runs Through Juarez With Crowd in Pursuit

Nude, with the exception of a small undershirt, an aged American, who has given his name as C. C. Gates, of Minneapolis, Minn., ran through the main street of Ciudad Juarez about 9 o'clock Sunday night. The regular Sunday night crowd gave chase and, before he could be captured, he had a large following of keno players, insurance salesmen and mounted police on his trail. When captured near a keno house, he was taken back to his room at one of the hotels in the city.

The man says he did not know at the time what he was doing and until he had been returned to the hotel did he come to his senses. He went to Ciudad Juarez Sunday afternoon to the bull fight, but left before it was over, as he was feeling ill. He got a room at a hotel in Juarez and went to bed and says he did not know any of the following of keno players, insurance salesmen and mounted police on his trail. When captured near a keno house, he was taken back to his room at one of the hotels in the city.

He is said to be a prominent real estate man of Minneapolis, with offices at 2908 Hennepin avenue. He is about 60 years of age and has been in El Paso during the last week on a real estate deal.

Grover Burnham, a son of city jailer Parker Burnham, has come to El Paso from San Antonio to make his home with his father.

A Newspaper Advertisement Probably Saved His Life.

In December, 1905, I suffered severely with pain in my kidneys and could not sleep nights on account of backache. I would run down, fall off in weight and was at that point when I thought I would have to stop my work as saw filer at the Cedar Creek Saw Mill Co.

I had used about everything and had called in my doctor, but all to no avail. After seeing your advertisement in the newspaper, I made up my mind to try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as a last resort. After three months' treatment I passed a gravel stone and at the end of one year's treatment, I was positively cured of all kidney troubles. After taking the first bottle I could sleep at night.

New I am perfectly healthy and I honestly believe Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to be a thorough cure for kidney trouble.

I will allow you to publish this where it may aid others who are suffering and in closing I wish to thank you for my present good health.

Yours very truly,

McNAMARA TELLS OWN LIFE STORY

Recites Just Before Trial What He Terms His Uneventful Career

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 2.—Sitting in a corridor just outside his cell in the county jail, John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, briefly sketched what he termed the uneventful lives of himself and his brother, James B. McNamara.

"I was born in Cincinnati, December 22, 1874," he said, "and I am the oldest of six children living, although there were 10 children originally. I attended the common schools in Cincinnati until I was 12 years old and then took a three year course in a business college."

"Nothing of any importance happened to me until the panic began in 1892, when I turned my hand to anything and everything to keep the pot boiling, as they say."

"I did my first bridge work at Cincinnati in 1893, joining the union the next year. Between 1893 and 1904, I visited various sections of the middle west, following my trade and working on steel bridges, viaducts and similar structures."

"I have held all of the offices in local unions, particularly in those of Cleveland, and have attended all the conventions of the international association since 1892. I was elected second vice president at the convention at Kansas City in 1893 and was chosen secretary-treasurer at Toronto in 1904. I have held that office ever since."

"The last building I worked on was the Rockefeller structure in Cleveland. I left that job to go to Toronto, and it was held open for me if I wanted to go back, but I didn't, as I had been made secretary-treasurer and had my time fully taken up with the duties of that office."

"The offices of the international association were in New York when I was first elected. Later, for sentimental reasons, I was instrumental in having them moved to Cleveland. Two years after the offices were removed there, another change was made to Indianapolis, for the reason that so many labor organizations had their international headquarters there."

"I never planned my life far ahead. The work of an ironworker probably precludes such planning, for such a man does not know when he leaves home in the morning that he will return at night. It probably tends towards fatalism."

"I wanted to learn of the organization in which I held office, particularly the legal end of it, and so I attended the Indianapolis College of Law and was admitted to practice in 1903."

"There is little else about my life except my arrest. I am an inveterate reader, and always have been, of books treating with economics and industrial matters."

James B. McNamara, who sat quietly by while his brother talked, also was born in Cincinnati. His birthday was June 2, 1882. He attended the common schools and then learned the printer's trade, which he has followed almost continuously ever since working in job offices in Chicago, Cleveland, Cincinnati and other cities.

"Unlike me," said John J. McNamara, "my brother has never been especially active in trades union affairs."

70,000 Customers For 25 Cents.

The ordinary cost of a Want Ad in The El Paso Herald is 25 cents. It reaches an average of about 70,000 readers each issue.

To circulate 70,000 people costs about $2100; to call on them, twice to three times as much more.

That's the difference in cost of getting customers through a big newspaper and through other means.

The El Paso Herald does the work for you in a day. The other ways require weeks and months.

TIES HUSBAND IN HIS ROOM

New York Woman Tries to Keep Him From Wandering on Broadway

New York, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Mrs. James Eagle, of New York, has hit upon the happy expedient of tying her husband securely in a room to keep him from wandering into the gay "white light" district of New York. Mrs. Eagle naturally explains that her husband is inclined to be flighty. He dared her to keep him at home. His wife accepted the challenge, got him into a bedroom, securely tied the door with rope and left her spouse rant and rave until she called the police. Eagle, his feathers ruffled at the treatment, left the house when liberated, and now Mrs. Eagle is looking for his return to his eyrie.

POPE PROBES THE WEDDING OF EAMES

Mrs. Emma Eames, the noted opera singer, and her new husband, Emilio de Gorgona, the baritone, whose marriage in Paris is now the subject of a papal court of inquiry. Both Mrs. Eames and de Gorgona are divorcees and it is to ascertain that no law of the Catholic church has been violated by their union, that the inquiry is being held. It is said that the investigation was instigated by the papal delegate from the United States, who stated that American Catholics were much exercised over the union of the two divorced persons without an explanation from the church. The investigation is presided over by the archbishop of Paris, archbishop Amette.

DEMONSTRATION IN JUAREZ FOR OROZCO

Campa to Accompany Him. Medina Is Back

A demonstration in favor of Gen. Pascual Orozco remaining in the state of Chihuahua was held in Ciudad Juarez Sunday night, and nearly 2000 persons took part. The people marched through the streets and to the plaza where speeches were made. Resolutions urging that the general remain in the state will be sent to president de la Barra. Chief of police Rafael Campa, of Juarez, has received word from Gen. Pascual Orozco to be ready to go to Sinaloa with him when he leaves to take up his new duties as commander of rurales in that state. This will necessitate the Ciudad Juarez police chief resigning his present position. Mayor Juan N. Medina, former mayor of Ciudad Juarez, has returned from Mexico City. He has been in the capital for several weeks in connection with his recent some time ago far permitting gambling to operate in Juarez. Medina returns to Ciudad Juarez. It is believed, to run for the mayoralty of the town at the municipal elections in November.

Easier To Remove Than Conceal Wrinkles
(National Hygienic Review)

"When you try to conceal your wrinkles with paste made from beans you decide yourself, not me. Let a defect which is possibly but small, appear undisturbed. A fruit concealed is sure to be great." This little epitaph of Martialis suggests the present day tendency to avoid the use of cosmetics which can only conceal or hide facial defects, and to adopt instead rational means of removing the same. For the removal of wrinkles, saggy cheeks and baggy chin, the saskito prescription, which goes to the foundation of these troubles, seems to have come into general use since its virtues became known but a short time ago. One cure of saskito, procurable at any drug store, is dissolved in a half pint of water. Used as a wash lotion this tightens the skin immediately, effectively smoothes out wrinkles and "drawing in" hanging skin or folds.

Sea snakes are very plentiful in the south Pacific. They are widely distributed, stray individuals having been secured on the coast of New Zealand. When swimming close to the surface they resemble an ordinary snake, except that the head is always below the water. At night they come ashore and lie among the rocks. They feed on fish, and, although their small double fangs appear harmless, they are venomous.

"Water of Life." Distilled aprits came into use in London in 1450 and had to be prohibited in 1491. Michael Savonarola produced a treatise on the making of "water of life" in the fifteenth century which became a standard authority on that subject and was followed by the work of Matthioli of Siena. These books gave an impetus to brandy making in Italy, whence the trade extended to France.—London Graphic.
